Price Pegs Canada Are Likely

Action by Commons Forecast In Ottawa

By Dick Brock
Exclusive to The Bulletin

OTTAWA, Jan. 19.—(HUP)—The government prepared today to gear new and tighter control measures to the defence controls promised yesterday in the U.S. by President Truman.

Trade Minister C. D. Howe already is in Washington to discuss plans for controls on Canadian non-ferrous metals. Officials of his department said after he left by plane that Howe would confer with U.S. industrial mobilization chief Charles E. Wilson on "the whole general picture of controls."

Cabinet sources said that wider controls, to cover prices and wages, were under consideration here and that "at least standby powers" for all-out economic control would be sought at the coming session of parliament.

Demand for more manpower and more output already have been voiced across the country. They were reflected last night in a warning by Defence Minister Brooke Claxton that the nation's new defence bill would call for "very much more" than the $507,000,000 spent on defence in 1950.

Howe was expected to return before Monday for crucial parliamentary cabinet meetings. Finance Minister Douglas C. Abbott yesterday was hastily recalled from a vacation cruise in the Caribbean and was expected to fly to Ottawa during the week-end.

CANADA COMMITTED
Officials in Howe's office said the Canadian control regulations would have to be adjusted to fit in with any new regulations instituted south of the border. Under the terms of a joint mobilizing agreement signed last fall, Canada is pledged to "take action that would have a parallel result" to any industrial controls effective in the United States.

Price and wage curbs would be an internal economic matter. Government economists have pointed out, however, that controls on prices and wages in the U.S. have an immediate effect on the Canadian economy.

Plans for economic controls were being drawn up for presentation to the House and Senate next month, government sources said. The measures would be laid before the Commons parliament, so each item could be fully debated.

459 Mumps Cases Recorded In Alta.
A total of 459 cases of mumps occurred in Alberta during the week ending Jan. 15, according to provincial health authorities said today.

Only 46 of the cases were reported from Edmonton. During the week 243 cases of chickenpox, 142 of scarlet fever and 14 of measles were reported in the province.

NOT KILBURN'S
Inquiries said the car was the same make as Kilburn's. Back of the car was loaded with hockey sticks and other equipment adding to the belief Western Canada hockey league's top point-getter had been involved in the accident.

Police said the accident victim had worked as a ballroom's helper in the NAB yards here. Laurie is an employee of Digby Drilling Co.

CNR officials said the train was the No. 1 mixed passenger and express en route to Edmonton. The collision took place just as it was leaving the city on the Edmonton road near 22nd ave.

Fred Scott, 1053-126 street, engineer on the train told police he rang the bell as he was approaching the crossing. Suddenly his fireman yelled for him to put on the emergency brakes.

Lindley Drilling Co., suffered shock and possible chest injuries. Laurie, believed to have been driving car, resided at 11441-65th street. Car was proceeding northwest on Kingsway and train was Edmonton-bound. CNR mixed local.

There's More Than One Way to Fight Cold

WARM FEET and a buffalo robe—that's solution of policeman to nippy problem of working eight hours at 20 below. Muffled up like bear, Constable John Reid inspects toes after coming in to station after frosty patrol. Some policemen use wintergreen to keep toes tingling. All depend on lots of socks. They've learned to stay fairly comfortable on job—but none of them will be sorry to see spring.

NOVEL COLD weather problem faces postmen—how to keep cool. Packing heavy mail bags all day, they find themselves sweating at 20 below. Cold hands are a problem, though. They must sort mail as they walk and find gloves cumbersome. Ice is mailmen's main problem. Many suffer falls as a result of icy steps and walks. Mailman Arthur Stamp, 12204-97 street, moans brow as he pauses making rounds with big load.

MOST UNUSUAL solution to cold weather problems is used by firemen. They freeze gloves to give insulation of ice. Firemen have unusual two-warm problem in cold weather. They freeze riding trucks to blaze, then roast fighting it. Firemen Joe Dann, 12228-89 street, and George Bell, 12042-94 street, show how blaze beaters use deep freeze method to keep fingers warm when alarm calls them out on sub-zero days.

CALGARY POLICE NAB STRAY GIRLS FROM LAKEHEAD

CALGARY, Jan. 19.—(CP)—Three teen-aged girls who ran away from their homes in Fort William recently were located in Calgary yesterday. Two of the girls, 17 years old, were arrested at a downtown street by detectives and are being held as juvenile delinquents pending advice from Fort William. The third girl was found at the home of relatives here. The three told police they had hitchhiked from Fort William.

The girls started Thursday and were still riding this afternoon. They were found on Highway 1, about 10 miles east of Calgary, and 13 miles east of Chechno.

Seven hundred of the money were killed by air strikes and the remainder by ground troops. Bodies were counted in the snow where they lay sprawled.

The Allied attack around Yongdo was not planned as an offensive but quite a scrap. The area is full of those jokers.

Elsewhere along the front, Communist patrols tried to close gaps between Communist and UN forces. Particularly threatening was the area of enemy forces toward the center and east, in the area of Yodo, Wonja and Yongin.

Two UN troops along road leading to Tachon, pivot point of the UN defense line toward the sea, were killed.

Government Plans Balloons for Defence
OTTAWA, Jan. 19.—(CP)—The Government has indicated it plans to use "captured balloons" for defence purposes as Britain did in the last war.

A department of Transport publication disclosed today that civilian pilots have been warned that the balloons may be flown in the prohibited flying area around the Chalk River, Ont., atomic plant, 125 miles northeast of Ottawa.

PREMIER SAYS WINNIPEG DYKES UNREACHABLE

DOMINION CITY, Man., Jan. 19.—(CP)—Premier Douglas Campbell says he doubts that Winnipeg "ever again" will have a flood apogee approaching the 1950 levels.

In a speech here last night, the Premier predicted that the system of dikes built in the Greater Winnipeg area since the spring flood will not be breached "in the foreseeable future." They would ensure "complete success" in fighting any flood "we will see within our lifetime."

27 Below This Morning Low for Year

The weatherman scraped somewhere down near the bottom of the weather barrel last night and came up with the lowest temperature in this winter.

At 6 a.m. today it was 27.5 below, coldest moment to date this frost-bitten time of year.

Previous paper records for Edmonton and vicinity were 25 below on Jan. 4 and 24 below on Dec. 4. It's getting altogether too frequent.

The dropping temperature—part of a general prairie picture—was accompanied by a meager, which headed up to a magnificent 2 inches.

General forecast this morning: continued clear and very cold weather for today; fog patches early in the day; light winds, and a maximum of five—make it 10—below.

Outlook was for continuing cold with no immediate break in sight on the snow-covered horizon.

Yesterday's high was eight below at 2:30 p.m.

Temperatures elsewhere—Grand Prairie, 40 below; Whitecourt, 37; Ponikoff, 25; Vermilion, 35.

Looks like we're trapped.

Canadian Troops Kill First Koreans

Nova Scotia Soldier Gets Two Reds In Clean-Up

WORKS IN FIELD

Laundry Unit Serves Canada Korea Brigade

FORT LEWIS, WASH., Jan. 19.—

(AP)—An average housewife would have nightmares after examining the volume of work done by the "dirty detail" of Canada's special brigade in Korea.

Every day is wash day. The daily laundry turnover sometimes goes as high as 2,000 pounds. And the work falls on the 17-man mobile laundry unit operating with the Korean brigade soldiers training here.

What's more, with part of the brigade on manoeuvres, the ordinary boys are working in the field.

Their equipment is the best, though, with a 16-ton trailer the brigade headquarters, the laundry unit has its own plant and is self contained. As quickly as they can be washed.

When operating in the field, the laundry unit does the laundry, the laundry unit does the laundry, the laundry unit does the laundry.

Capt. J. J. Veilleux, Montreal Catholic padre from Montreal with the Patricia's, went to Tsung to arrange for the burial, which will be in Pusan, about 20 miles east of here, Saturday.

On his return, he reported that the results of his inquiry into the crash were that the plane was destroyed by enemy soldiers and four trainees were killed and 40 injured in the accident, in which a troop train collided with a west-bound transcontinental passenger train on Canadian National Railway.

Transport Board Reports Saturday

OTTAWA, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Board of Transport Commissioners today handed down at 10 a.m. tomorrow the results of its inquiry into the crash of the train.

Seven soldiers and four trainees were killed and 40 injured in the accident, in which a troop train collided with a west-bound transcontinental passenger train on Canadian National Railway.

Mail Service In Korea Boosts Canucks' Morale

MIRYANG, Korea, Jan. 19.—(CP)—The mail is really coming through.

Letters from home, top morale builders among soldiers abroad are reaching Canadians in Korea in an average of seven days after being mailed in Canada.

Some, which have made long connections, have been delivered to soldiers of the 2nd Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, four days after mailing in Vancouver. Others require as many as 11 days.

Troops are told by Lieut. Ian Brown of South Sea, Marine Out, Canadian postal office in the Far East, to allow 24 days for answers to their own letters home.

Brown, who has travelled more miles than any other Canadian in the Far East, has trouble shooting the men's mail, but only "two other Canadian postal office personnel being his get the mail through."

HIGHES RIDES

He is allowed no transport of his own by the army, and to get his job done has had to hitch-hike through Japan and Korea by plane and jeep.

But he checked to the end to make sure the men's mail is reaching them, even visiting places of Patricia's training in the field.

While most of the men are receiving letters regularly—such as Lieut. J. F. Key of Armstrong, N.S., who has had 130 in three weeks—some men have had only two or three since reaching Korea.

Where Brown suggests that letters actually are not being written, he suggests that the men ask their wives to get word of families or friends back home for them. The post office can ask the army to impress on the post office the importance of morale of word from their home.

Brown also promises government post office investigation where fall-down of postal service are suspected.

100 OVERCOME BY FUMES IN FLORIDA PLANT

DADE CITY, Fla., Jan. 18.—(AP)—More than 100 persons were overcome today at the Percy Frey Company when a tank containing a flammable gas exploded and fumes spread about the plant.

Injured persons were brought in large batches to the hospital here.

Mrs. M. Larkin reported persons were "lying all over the place—in halls, floors, everywhere."

Extent of the injuries is not known.

Cpl. O'Brien drew a head Wednesday during a three-day anti-guerrilla operation by a company led by Maj. Vince Liley, of Hamilton.

LI-COL. J. M. Stone of Edmonton and Salmon Arm, B.C., officer commanding the Canadian troops in Korea, ordered the action after two New Zealand soldiers were killed and two wounded in separate ambushes by the Communists.

JUST NEWS

CSM. Ralph Ferns of Neils, Alta., who returned to the main camp last night to prepare for the company's return, brought the first direct news of the operation through mountainous and distinctly friendly territory.

Cpl. O'Brien's victims were couriers to a band that the Canadian force, assigned to clear guerrillas from its district in eastern Korea, now estimates at between 40 and 50 men.

At an earlier estimate by 300 R.C. of Korea police placed the number at 25.

OWN MAN KILLED

The Canadians at the main training camp at Miryang today mourned RSM. James D. Wood of Calgary, who died yesterday of wounds sustained in a battle with a mine during a demonstration.

Capt. J. J. Veilleux, Montreal Catholic padre from Montreal with the Patricia's, went to Tsung to arrange for the burial, which will be in Pusan, about 20 miles east of here, Saturday.

Canada Arms Spending To Boost Civil Economy

HALIFAX, Jan. 19.—(CP)—Canada's business-as-usual era is over, Defence Minister Claxton said last night for all to hear. It may be gone for a generation.

For the second time since the Korea fighting started, he said the government is going to give the defence effort a major acceleration. It will have "a big effect on the civilian economy."

Defence costs are going to soar "far, much higher" than this year's record $600,000,000.

Canadians will have to "do without a lot of things all of us would like to have." Manpower will be needed in increasing numbers. The country will move more and more towards a war footing.

Because Russia aims at "unlimited expansion" and has shown increasing willingness to risk a general war, "we are going to have far more business than usual and it is going to put pressures on the resources of manpower and raw materials and on the capacity of this country."

The minister, on a Maritime tour, placed those implications of expanding preparations on the line and Ottawa reports the defence budget for the next fiscal year will come to about $1,000,000,000.

CITIES EFFECTS

He said these are among the effects of the United States and Canada "are setting up a ring of stations and establishments on the coast of Labrador and Newfoundland as part of a joint defence zone that takes in the Maritimes and the Gulf of St. Lawrence."

Canada has proposed that the manufacture radar and wireless sets, medicine and other aircraft for Atlantic Pact allies in quantities large enough to use up the $200,000,000 already voted by parliament for European arms aid.

The navy will accelerate its program of refitting, rearming and commissioning all existing ships as well as preparing to handle 27 new ships when they are ready.

Orders have been issued for looking up for the production of U.S.-type motor vehicles and other military equipment in Canada.

USE YANK DESIGN

$60,000,000 will be spent to re-equip for the army the division's equipment sent to Holland. This will be of American design and some of it may be produced in Canada.

Perhaps the biggest development of all proportionally is in the electronics and electrical field where, in addition to large orders for our own use, major contracts are expected for other countries.

The "full-time personnel, service and civilian engaged on defence work has been increased from 50,000 to 80,000 and "we are going to need more men and more money."

Canada was faced with this sort of effort for "perhaps a generation, until the threat of war is ended either by the fact of war or by a change in the attitude of the Communists."

The island of Malta, British bastion in the Mediterranean, has an area of 94 square miles.

bing winterproof on the feet will do the trick while others rely on plenty of warm socks and overboots.

The best insulation in the world, according to the policemen, is a thin suit of cotton underwear next to the skin and a heavier suit of cotton or wool underwear on top.

They have also discovered that without a fur coat. They say that as long as they have warm feet, a buffalo coat with the collar turned up high and a fur cap pulled down on the forehead the thermometer can drop to as low as it wants.

Dr. G. M. Little, medical officer of health, agrees with both the policemen and policemen.

PROTECT FEET

He says feet and hands get cold easiest and should be best protected. People out in the cold for long periods, Dr. Little recommends, should wear loose knit underwear for insulation and wool or fur outer garments.

When people are only out for short periods he says they should wear heavy outer clothing that can be taken off inside. This helps prevent extremes of warm and cold, very harmful to the body.

"Our weather is not really cold enough to cover the face," Dr. Little said. The blood supply to the face is so good that unless a strong wind is blowing it seldom needs the extra protection of mufflers, goggles and masks.

Firmen have a two arm problem in the cold. If they wear heavy clothes, they sweater lighter. If they wear light clothes, they freeze going and coming.

But they manage fairly well. Their hands are rubberized and they keep moving when they are out on a cold night.

Bad Road Conditions Blamed for Fatalities

Bad condition of the highway was yesterday found "primarily responsible" for the death of two persons on the Calgary Trail "Death Mile," December 21.

The accident, which took the lives of Malcolm Norris and F. H. Sloan, both of Lacombe, occurred one mile north of Nisku at a point where paving ends in one line of the road.

Const. L. T. Martin, of Leduc, said that the car was on the road for 30 cars in a single night when he got off the road at this point, when roads were icy before Christmas apparently thrown out of control when they attempted to return to the paved section of the road.

Witnesses testified there was a ridge between the paved and unpaved sections of the road which was not to be returned to pavement. Condition of the highway was icy at the time of the fatal accident.

The deaths bring to 11 the number killed within the past 10 months on the infamous Death Mile north of the Nisku curve.

Norris and Sloan were killed when their car went out of control and struck a north-bound car driven by Mr. J. Oswald.

The jury found Norris dead December 21 of chest injuries and shock and that Sloan died Jan. 2 from injuries to kidneys and liver. Time of the accident was given as 7:15 p.m.

Dr. M. Cantor, provincial coroner, presided over the inquest.

Saskatchewan Finds Feldspar

REGINA—(UPI)—The department of natural resources says analysis of Saskatchewan's first major find of feldspar has shown it to be of quality for use in the manufacture of glass.

The samples were found early this summer by Dr. J. B. Macdonald of the University of Saskatchewan, through radioactive investigation in the Nunn Lake area, 40 miles east of Lac La Ronge village in Northern Saskatchewan.

The feldspar deposit was in a flat-tiny dig about four feet thick, with about 5,000 tons exposed at the surface. The feldspar is of the perovskite variety, the department said the first outcrop would make for easy quarrying. However, the same type of feldspar was produced in South Dakota and marketed for the Saskatchewan market for glass and possibly slow to develop.

Increased Levy Asked For Cattle Shipments

A strong recommendation that the fee for shipping horned cattle be raised from one of five dollars was a main point in the annual report of humane inspector H. J. Jones to the Edmonton Livestock Protective Association.

The report, made public today by J. R. Fehrensbach, chairman of the society, said if the fee was not raised "regulation should be passed making it unlawful to ship horned cattle."

It would tend to minimize damage to certain types of animals, the report added.

The inspector said he estimated 20 per cent of all cattle marketed in Edmonton had horns.

"The loss and damage is enormous," he said. "The cost of $1 a head is not enough to encourage departing."

He reported the summons issued to shippers and truckers from infringement of the Public Service Vehicle Act of which 17 resulted in conviction.

In addition there were 216 warnings given.

Offences included shipping stock in overloaded cars, failure to supply proper partitions, bedding, sties, or tarpaulins on trucks.

When Evans left home, he said he was going to look for work at the mine for the former miner as he returned his wife thought he had been working.

Mrs. Evans said she thought he had been on a job for some time but he was wearing only a light jacket and overalls over his slippers.

Death News Is Repetition For Old Dad

VANCOUVER, Jan. 18.—(UPI)—Sorrow of the home of S. J. Wood again today was like a return of the past.

He was a son, S. J. Wood, James Dean Wood of Calgary, was the first Canadian soldier to die in Korea.

The soldier, a member of the Second Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, died of wounds suffered during a mine demonstration.

Apparently thinking it was a dud, the soldier picked it up and was throwing it away when it exploded.

The old man's mind went back to 1945, when another son, Sgt. S. J. Wood, killed a German soldier—attempting to remove a mine from a road.

Two sons, Ian and Bill, also have served in the Canadian Army.

Mr. Wood lives alone here, except for a housekeeper. "He doesn't realize it has happened," said the wife of Ian, his eldest son. "It will hit him at once, two or three days from now."

Ration Cut

NEW DELHI, India, Jan. 18.—(UPI)—Facing a serious shortage of food grains, India will cut the ration throughout the country by a quarter, it was learned today.

26 Immigrant Arrivals Find City Warm at -27

Edmonton was just plain old still as bright and cold as ever.

But it was something more for 26 immigrants who stepped off a CNR train.

Some of these selected immigrants from troubled European countries it meant "home" for friends who arrived previously.

Others, travelling alone or in pairs, would soon meet relatives or friends to some it was a "whole new world," and to others a last stop-over before reaching their quiet Alberta farms.

The small group was part of a band of approximately 120 devoted to western Canada who arrived from various European countries Sunday, aboard the steamships Scythia and Gripenholm.

Only a few will make their homes in Edmonton, the remainder will board later trains that will get them to their destinations this evening.

William Zvolok, his young wife Anna, and their three-year-old son Roman, were among the first to make their way to immigration headquarters where they will await later trains.

Zvolok, who has travelled nearly 800 miles from his native Ukraine, explained his haste. "Too cold, baby might cry," said the young father in broken English as he held his child. He and his family will make their home on a farm near Malloy.

WILL BE FARMER

John Pitkowski, who for the past number of years with his wife, have lived in Germany, seemed to agree with Zvolok. "Too in Germany it's not this cold," he said jokingly.

Pitkowski, in a party of four, also take up farming. He and his wife are headed for Beaver Lodge, in northern Alberta. He and his all, five new Edmonton were among the Edmonton group.

Stewart Raps Decline Of Local Government

We stand in danger of destroying the core of democracy—local government.

The tendency of people to refuse acceptance of responsibility in local government is evidence of a decline in the democratic concept, Prof. Andrew Stewart, University of Alberta president, told last night's annual meeting of South Side Businessmen's Association in Knox United Church.

Local government can kill itself if it doesn't avail themselves of the opportunity to participate, said Prof. Stewart.

It's a false and dangerous idea to regard federal and provincial governments as better administered than local governments. But it is a healthy process to view them as equals, he stated.

The present-day characteristic of viewing the biggest as the best is a weakness rather than a virtue, he said.

DANGER PRESENT

There is danger in local government in the field of taxation, where provincial governments agree with the federal government to deal with the power of municipal politics.

There is danger in provincial governments coming to regard municipalities as their own creatures, having created them. "There is grave danger that local governments may perish in maintaining themselves just because they like to be different," said Prof. Stewart.

Cities of Alberta should be prepared to go as far as possible to a measure of autonomy within the framework of the present municipal government.

In the field of management, for example, there is still a need for trying to achieve more uniformity. The process by which one agency in local government, such as the

Gross Inconsistencies

Hesitation on the part of some United Nations members to declare Red China an aggressor in Korea is about as realistic as the legendary behavior of the ostrich in thrusting its head into the sand.

International politics have come to a tragically low moral ebb when glaring and obvious facts are to be denied because to acknowledge the plain truth of them might involve assuming the responsibility for dealing with them.

Red China's aggression in Korea became an established fact the moment her troops stepped over the 38th parallel just as North Korea was an aggressor when she made the same advance.

The United Nations did not hesitate to brand North Korea an aggressor under those circumstances. Why does the United Nations hesitate in the case of Red China?

Are there degrees of truth so that the culpability of a conquistador nation declines in proportion to the extent of her military power?

Surely the United Nations are not so morally degraded that they are prepared to subscribe in principle to the abominable doctrine that might makes right.

Certainly their present position with regard to Red China makes it look that way.

It is a strange inconsistency, too, that the United Nations accord Red China the status of a legal and respectable power in all this shameful dithering while, formally, since the United Nations has not recognized Red China and have not awarded Red China a seat in their various bodies, Red China is no more than a bandit state in the international view.

On the one hand, the United Nations say that Red China does not exist. On the other hand, they say that it is a world dictator before which free nations must grovel.

'Pops' Concerts Not To Be Sacrificed

There is a strange and alarming clause in the city commissioners' report to the finance committee on the projected "Theatre Under the Stars."

This clause says:

"Should this (the open-air theatre) eventuate, it would not be possible for the Recreation Commission to present their usual 'Pop' concerts during this period (June 22 to August 10), but the Commission suggests that the 'Pop' concerts, therefore, be given at intervals during the winter and held, as now, in the stock pavilion."

Thousands of Edmonton citizens will say, and the Bulletin will agree with them, that if the establishment of the open-air theatre depends upon the abolition of the summer "Pops" concerts, the open-air theatre project should be forgotten right now.

The acting mayor has replied to an Edmonton Bulletin editorial, criticizing the delay in completing reassessments, with the extraordinary statement that the commissioners are to be given enough competent persons to augment the assessor's staff.

The Bulletin is quite aware of that fact. It is aware that the assessor is a highly skilled process and that the assessor and his staff worked hard and diligently at it.

The Bulletin agrees with the acting mayor that trained assessors cannot be found overnight.

But the Bulletin stated in its critical article that the commissioners are about the need for reassessment as early as 1953, long before the advent of the present assessor.

Why, then, did the commissioners fail to set on foot a scheme for training men to do this work when the need would arise if they knew it most certainly would arise?

It still seems to us that the mill rate is about to be increased chiefly because the city administration, for the past six or seven years, has lacked planning and foresight.

France's present position is typical of many others.

France says that Red China is an aggressor but that it is not safe to say so until "we may study, carefully all the possible consequences."

What kind of truth is that? Is truth only truth when it is safe?

Those inconsistencies and bumbling, hesitant policies are driving the public to believe that the trouble with the world is lack of leadership with what is vulgarly known as guts.

There has been a timorous wall about the danger of provoking a war between the Orient and Occident. No such war is even remotely in sight.

If there were no fundamental animosity between the Orient and Occident, it would have broken into flame when Japan was proclaiming herself as the champion of the East.

As a matter of actual fact, Japan's bedeviling of her Asiatic neighbors only will put her quietness upon any Asiatic Asiatic unity for generations to come.

Of course this threat is being promoted by Mr. Nehru and others for what they can get out of it. Nehru went to the Commonwealth conference in London with the idea of blacklisting the Empire into giving him a subsidy. Apparently he stamped the British government and perhaps some others into adopting his view.

But it is unrealistic and it is false. The only real threat in the world today is Russian imperialism which disguises itself as international Communism.

It has to be met with determination and force.

Apprehension will not work today any more than it worked at Munich in 1938. Every attempt to cajole and soft-soap the Russian stogies, including Red China, only brings total war closer to every democratic nation.

The Bulletin supported the open-air theatre proposal in the belief that it would supplement and not replace present summer entertainment in this community.

It supported the project because it believed that Edmonton needed more and more varied different summer entertainment.

It cannot support any project that is conditional upon eliminating an undertaking which has so much pleasure to so many people as the "Pops" concerts have done.

An open-air theatre would be a splendid thing for this city—but only if it does not interfere with the attractions we already have.

There is utterly no sense in exchanging an attraction of established merit for another attraction whose merits have still to be evaluated.

But the Bulletin stated in its critical article that the commissioners are about the need for reassessment as early as 1953, long before the advent of the present assessor.

Why, then, did the commissioners fail to set on foot a scheme for training men to do this work when the need would arise if they knew it most certainly would arise?

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime

Family Accepted By Bouncing Girl

You'll just have to pardon me if my interest in the titanic struggle between East and West isn't all it ought to be. Even the famous tug-of-war between Moscow and Washington is a subject I find momentarily somewhat drab.

I am more concerned at this red hot moment with the struggle for superiority between a large, terribly determined baby and its parents, of whom I happen to be one. This is my first "of whom" of the year; they are allowed one each.

The kid in question is my own flesh and blood, although you'd never know it to look at her. She looks more like the progeny of a couple of heavyweight Japanese wrestlers.

Jenny, for such is the name of this giant child, is now 30 pounds and once for ounce is the most determined, unflinching, belligerent, resolute infant fighting in the juvenile division today.

The first skirmish, of course, has been to put her on a diet as prescribed by a pediatrician, which means a bottle on a schedule and not merely when baby gets the urge, which was the bottle. It was her first victory.

No War Of Extinction

Editor, Bulletin:—Just six years ago, we were fighting the Nazi monster.

Today, these same Nazi ghoulies are being sought as allies by the so-called "free nations."

But it is unrealistic and it is false. The only real threat in the world today is Russian imperialism which disguises itself as international Communism.

It has to be met with determination and force.

Apprehension will not work today any more than it worked at Munich in 1938. Every attempt to cajole and soft-soap the Russian stogies, including Red China, only brings total war closer to every democratic nation.

Capitol Books Technicolor Hit

Astaire and Hutton Star In Musical Extravaganza

Another of Paramount's spectacular musicals, "Let's Dance," with Betty Hutton and Fred Astaire, opens today at the Capitol Theatre.

The picture has just about everything, including color by technicolor, a laugh-packed story, six hip-parade-bound tunes by Frank Loesser, and enough dance routines to satisfy even the most ardent Astaire fan.

Teaming of the nimble-footed dancing star with Betty Hutton was an inspired bit of casting, for the two bring to the picture a freshness and vigor seldom seen on the screen.

In the featured roles, Roland Young, Ruth Warrick, Lucile Watson and always-old Gregory Moffet lend much to the film's delightful air of festivity.

As for the hip-parade-bound tunes, how about "Oh Them Dudes," "Tunnel of Love," and "Why Fight the Feeling?"

Eleven Killed Underground

KRUMIT, W.Va., Jan. 19.—(AP)—Eleven miners were killed yesterday in an underground explosion that ripped through the Burning Springs coal mine.

Eight bodies were located by rescue teams shortly after they dug their way through slides blocking the tunnel, and three more dead were discovered last night by searchers combing the area.

Two others were injured in the blast, one critically.

State mines chief Arch Alexander said the explosion was caused by a "gaseous condition" in the mine.

Spring Hats Shapely; Posed Well-Forward

Never have hats been shapelier, lovelier than they are for spring and the first thing you notice is that they are worn forward and usually level on the head, a few of them tilted to the right.

Alumni Names New Officers

Mrs. Janet Clark was elected president of the Edmonton Nurses' Association at recent annual meeting.

Other officers elected were Mrs. A. A. Mellan, first vice-president; D. J. Lavender, second vice-president; Miss Marie Ayling, treasurer; Mrs. H. Gallon and Mrs. J. W. Weller, social committee; Mrs. F. H. Meland and Mrs. M. Goshall, bazaar committee; Mrs. J. Henney and Miss Edna Kogut, newspaper; Mrs. J. G. Craig, press; Miss Ann Oshchek and Mrs. G. Shillabear, flower; Mrs. F. Pike and Mrs. C. Foster, phone.

Guests at the evening were Miss Lillian Combs, Mrs. A. L. Miller was pianist.

If your friends like dessert, could be cranberry pie.

There are variations in the forward tilt, so that if you're one who looks better with a bit of hairline showing you can find a hat to accommodate you.

The small hat is still the popular hat, with many salons, narrow brimmed and bonnet shapes to avoid any monotony. Brims are frequently curved or ruffled and often cut off in the back to allow for the growing hair or a chignon.

Other hats, posed forward, give the same freedom. The chignon is such a pronounced influence that it has inspired some milliners to make whole collections that take this pinned-hair piece in to consideration.

Peaked crowns, curves, manipulations and animation in brims add further to the variety. Many styles are very soft and light on the head. Again, side width is important and everything from feathers to the cut of the brim accomplishes it.

The trimmed hat, pretty and feminine, promises to be more popular than the untrimmed though the latter is seen in manipulated styles that have enough interest without decoration.

Hats have flowers, leaves and berries to add to their femininity, and the daintier blossoms are the most popular — lilacs, lilies of the valley, apple blossoms, sweethearts, carnations and the like. For contrast sometimes large fragile flowers of silk are pressed flat between layers of mink or applied to straw or fabric.

Color is all-important, and the hat will frequently provide the main color accent for the many neutral costumes that we will wear. The violet tones, mauve, pink and blues, a bright and lovely red rank high in favor.

Mrs. Fowler Named Westmount Pres.

Mrs. J. Fowler was elected president of Westmount Presbyterian Church ladies aid at a business one afternoon.

Other officers named were Mrs. C. Hargreaves, first vice-president; Mrs. C. Hope, second vice-president; and Mrs. J. Giverson, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Hargreaves was appointed bazaar convenor. It was decided to have the June tea on June 6 and the annual bazaar on Nov. 7.

U.K. BUSINESS FAILURES UP 1,800 SINCE 1945

LONDON, Jan. 10.—(CP)—Business is picking up, and officials of "heartbreak houses" nicknamed for a London government office dealing with Britain's bankruptcies.

Operating under the supervision of the Board of Trade, the office recorded approximately 2,000 failures in 1952, compared with 207 in 1945.

Analysis of the 1949 total of 1,419 bankruptcies, showed some surprises. Notwithstanding food rationing, only four butchers went bankrupt that year, compared with 78 in 1939. Failure of building concerns, however, totalled 143 despite the urgent demand for new homes and repair of war-damaged property.

Higher runnings-out and lightening power-cuts are blamed for the bankruptcy of 76 pubs and hotels. This figure, however, is confined to privately-owned concerns. None of the pubs and hotels owned by brewers, shared a similar fate.

It may be a sign of the times, said an official, "Only one rag-and-bone man filed a petition in 1949 and we haven't had a pawnbroker through our hands since 1927."

NRC Researchers Give Increase

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—(CP)—The federal cabinet has approved salary increases ranging from $20 to $200 a year for 575 research workers and 179 persons in the scientific services of the National Research Council. It was announced yesterday.

E. R. Birchard, vice-president of the council, said the increase will be retroactive to Dec. 1.

RINGWORM MADE ALLY BY TRUANTS

BELFAST, Jan. 10.—(Reuters)—A ringworm black market has been stymied by school officials in London.

Small fry with the infection were spending it to others—for a price—so that they, too, could stay home from school.

But authorities caught on, and a special school for infected children was opened.

Son Succeeds Father as Chief

REVELSTOCK, B.C., Jan. 10.—(CP)—After 31 years as a fireman, including 21 consecutive years as fire chief, Sam Needham has retired from the post.

Elected to succeed him as chief was his son, S. E. Needham.

UN GO-BETWEEN

Canuck Signalmen Clear Messages in Korea Zone

VANCOUVER, Jan. 10.—(CP)—The Canadian destroyers in Korean waters are a fine go-between for the British and U.S. naval forces there, a Canadian navy information officer said today.

Lt. Al Platt, who flew here from Tokyo, told this story: "U.S. and British ships were exchanging messages to no avail. They could not understand one another's signals."

A Canadian signal officer stepped in. "I'm a Canuck," he said. "And I can understand you both."

He then cleared messages for the first time between the U.S. and British ships, en route to Ottawa to report said UN forces continue to dominate the seas around Korea.

Brave Robins

BRANTON, Man. Jan. 10.—(CP)—A flock of 25 robins is spending the winter in a field northwest of Brantford. The robins are plump and appear to be healthy and very active.

Prized Possession

GUELPH, Ont., Jan. 10.—(CP)—One of the prized possessions of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Jackson, who have just celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, is a piece of the cake baked for their wedding 50 years ago.

SATURDAY BATHS STRAIN WATER SYSTEM

LONDON, Jan. 10.—(Reuters)—More than 300 families in the Lambeth area of south London have been asked to do away with Saturday night baths. The local council wants them to spread their soaping out through the week. Otherwise there is too much of a strain on the council's central hot-water supply system.

Neighbor Helped

PRESTON, Jan. 10.—(CP)—When fire raged the home of Henry Martin last week fellow workmen subscribed $500 in cash, donated clothing and furniture and built a temporary four-room house in their spare time.

A garnet of 8,000 carats, or about 41 pounds, found in Brazil is believed the biggest of its quality ever discovered.

SINCLAIR LEWIS' SON GETS HALF ESTATE

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Sinclair Lewis' will, filed for probate yesterday, in Berkshire County probate court, left an undisclosed estate to his son, Michael, and to three New York women, two of them the author's literary agents.

Lewis, first American novelist to win the Nobel Prize, died Jan. 10 in Rome, aged 68.

The will drawn in 1948, designated Williamson real estate valued at $70,000 and personal property in this state of $15,000. Half value of the entire estate was not made known.

Half the estate was left for the benefit of Michael Lewis, now a resident of London.

The remainder was divided among Mrs. Sewell Haggard and Mrs. Kathryn T. Powers, literary agents, and Mrs. Powers' daughter, Mrs. Marcella Powers Amrine.

NO REST FOR AGED

HEADINGLEY, Eng. Jan. 10.—(Reuters)—George Nelson likes to sleep late, now that he's 74, but about two months ago he started getting daily phone calls at 6:30 a.m.

A cheery-voiced operator would say "It's time to get up—6:30."

It's all part of the British Telephone Service. For two pence you can be called any time you want.

Only trouble was that Nelson never asked for the service.

The Theatre Francaise in Paris was founded by Francoise Talmie, French actor, in 1180.
